RUSSIA GETS FIRST CALL

PEACE CONFERENCE CALLS FOR MEMORANDUM. LEAGUE OF NATIONS NEXT.

By the Associated Press
PARIS, Jan. 21.—The Russian question was again considered by the supreme council of the peace conference when it met today at 10:30 o'clock. There was a full attendance for this meeting.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The peace conference now has the Russian situation under active and continued examination, while plans for a league of nations are being fast brought into shape and were expected to be taken under general consideration for the first time when the supreme council reassembled today. The latest information available to the correspondents was that all associated governments were prepared for presentation of their memoranda on the Russian situation in response to the call for them issued last Saturday. President Wilson had in hand this morning memoranda on the subject prepared by the American mission.

Plans for the league of nations continue to develop and it is deemed not improbable that the conference will get to its first full discussion on the subject by the week's end.

MODERATES OF GERMANY WIN

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR FORMATION OF STABLE GOVERNMENT.

By the Associated Press

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Early returns from German elections are interpreted here to signify a promising prospect for the establishment of a stable German administration at an early date. Majority socialists and German democrats who are successors of the old radical party, apparently will go into the constituent assembly with a big lead over the independent socialists. Friedrich Von Payer, former vice chancellor and leader of the democrats, and socialist leaders Ebert and Schiedemann, demonstrated their ability to work together and they count on Konstantin Fehrenbach, Centrist leader, as an ally in efforts to institute a government with the basis of popular support.

Eichorn and Haase Win.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—It is probable the former chief of police Eichorn and Hugo Haase, former secretary for foreign affairs, in the Ebert cabinet, have been elected to the national assembly. Returns are coming in very slowly and results, even in Berlin, are as yet uncertain.

SINN FEINERS MEET AT DUBLIN

PLAN TO DECLARE IRELAND'S INDEPENDENCE OF GREAT BRITAIN.

By the Associated Press

DUBLIN, Jan. 21.—The Dail Eireann which is Gaelic for "Irish parliament" will be called to order this afternoon in Dublin's ancient mansion house to proclaim Ireland an independent republic. About half the Sinn Feiners elected to membership in the British parliament will participate, the other half being in various English prisons charged with sedition or merely held on suspicion under the elastic provisions of the defense of the realm act.

A SOLDIER OF THE 36TH REACHES HOME

Sergt. Zoe Stegall, son of W. H. Stegall and wife, has arrived from France with his honorable discharge and a soldierly record of which he may well be proud. However, the young man speaks modestly of his service and, as is usual with those who have served best, does not boast of his deeds.

He was a member of Co. M, 141st infantry, 36th division and was discharged because of his wounds. He was on the steamer Northern Pacific which went ashore at Fire Island, off New York, and in great danger until rescued.

The young man landed in France in June and soon afterwards was sent to the front and was wounded five times while on the Champagne sector. One hand is permanently disabled from a machine gun bullet. He was wounded Oct. 14 and in the hospital two months.

He has some interesting souvenirs taken on the battlefield. One is a cigarette lighter. A German officer, who had stolen it in France, was in a shell hole on the front and when he exposed his position by lighting a cigarette young Stegall got him. He also has an ugly knife with which the Hun soldiers were provided. They carried these in their boot tops and in close quarters stabbed their enemies. He was slightly wounded by a German with one of these knives, but the Hun never needed a knife after that. He knows of at least eight that he sent to their reward.

He says the best snipers the Germans had were women who wore the regulation uniform. He says a woman has keeper eyes than a man, hence these women did deadly work with machine guns posted in trees and other concealed points.

He speaks in the highest terms of the Red Cross. "They were mothers to us," he says. He was picked up by the Red Cross after lying two days and nights wounded on the field.

Gen. Pershing is the young man's ideal hero. He says the general was not afraid of anything and he has seen him in the front lines when the battle was heaviest, walking unconcerned along twirling his cane, and seemed to bear a charmed life for no bullet ever found him.

The young soldier wears five wound stripes on his arm and a star on the shoulder indicating conspicuous bravery in action.

MOB BURNS NEGRO AT HILLSBORO, TEX.

HILLSBORO, Texas, Jan. 21.—Bragg Williams, negro, who confessed to the murder of Mrs. George Wells and her little son at their home near Itasca, Dec. 2, was taken from jail here at 1 o'clock this afternoon and burned to death on the public square. Earlier in the day he had been sentenced to be hanged on February 21. He was convicted last week.

Williams, who had been in jail in Dallas for safekeeping, was brought to Hillsboro this morning to receive sentence, which was passed by Judge Horton Porter of the District court. Williams was then taken to the county jail.

Attorneys Walter Collins and A. M. Frazier, who were appointed to defend Williams, served under protest. The defense moved for a new trial and, on this being refused, gave notice of appeal.

Shortly after noon a crowd went to the jail and demanded that Williams be turned over to them. The demand was refused. The outer door of the jail was broken with a sledge hammer and preparations were made to batter down the cell door, but someone in the crowd secured possession of the cell keys by overpowering a guard. The negro was brought out and led to the public square. Williams was chained to the square. "safety first" post on the square. Hay, wood and coal were piled about him and over the mass was poured several gallons of coal oil. Then a match was applied. Williams lived but a few minutes in the flames, probably not more than five. He is said to have made no outcry at his fate other than to say "Help me, Cap," three times.

At the jail Williams is said to have admitted the double killing, but to have denied outraging his victim.

While a great many persons gathered around the burning negro, business was not suspended and there was very little excitement.

LIEBKNECHT NOT ASSASSINATED

AUTOPSY CONFIRMS EARLY REPORT OF DEATH WHILE ATTEMPTING ESCAPE.

By the Associated Press

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—An autopsy upon the body of Dr. Liebknecht, shot and killed last week while attempting to escape from his soldier guards, showed he was shot from behind from some distance, and not through the forehead at a few paces, as contended by the Spartacists. The official report shows the fatal bullet entered the back of the head and came out through the forehead. Rose Luxemburg's body hasn't been found, notwithstanding continued search.

Opportunity may knock at every man's door sooner or later, but the hustler never waits for the knock. He goes after opportunity and never stops until he has captured the elusive lady.

If a grouch is all a man puts into life hard knocks are what he will get in return. The world seldom showers favors on the man who is constantly howling about things going wrong and never trying to better them.

We have not examined the details of the budget plan of appropriations recommended by Gov. Robertson, but were like the idea. Under the present system, or rather lack of system, the appropriations are handled in a shotgun fashion and much money is wasted that could be saved if there were a systematic way of handling expenditures. At all events matters could not be worse, so this plan would be worth the experiment. Handling public money is a matter that should be dealt with judiciously.

The German government has managed to hold its own against the bolshevik movement and may weather the storm that threatened to plunge the nation into anarchy like that of Russia. The killing of Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, leaders of the bolshevik element, may tend to destroy the effectiveness of the organization, leaving the moderates to work out the destiny of the new German republic. Apparently the German republic is a reality and the prospect of restoring to Hohenzollerns is dim. It is entirely within the bounds of possibility that the bolshevik movement has been backed by the monarchists in the hope that the people would become so disgusted with popular government that they would return to the Hohenzollern yoke.

FROM NORMAN V. HOWARD, KILLED ON FRENCH FRONT.
The following letter was written to his brother, B. A. Howard of Hart, by Norman V. Howard, his brother, a month before he made the supreme sacrifice. The verses were written after he went to the army.
France Sept. 22, 1918.

Dear Brother:
Since I wrote you last the American boys have gone "over the top" in a big drive. I have now been on or near the front line for about 30 days. I'm getting used to the rumble of the big guns right along. Have spent several nights out in No Man's Land, and went over the top and back with not so much as a scratch though my clothes are torn a little bit. I got a Dutchman before I came back too.
I would like to tell you several things about what we did and saw when we went over, but am not permitted to do so. I will mail you a copy of our paper which is published over here. By reading it you can see what we have done. I trust that everything is going along nicely at home.

I am getting along fine so far. This is a very interesting country to see—especially that part where we are now located, which has been held by the Germans for the last four years. Will try to write again soon.
Your brother,
NORMAN.

When the Captain Calls the Roll.
When this war on sin is ended,
And the Devil's army slain;
We'll sing the song of Triumph,
We will swell the glad refrain.

Ten thousand voices ringing,
To their Captain's praise shall sing;
A carol to Zion's victors,
It will make all heaven ring.

We'll march with banners flying,
When the victory is won;
When this war on sin is over,
Then our warfare will be done.

With blood-stained banners flying,
In the peaceful starry sky;
We'll rally round our Captain,
As he calls our names on high.

'Twill be joyous when 'tis o'er,
For through him the victory;
Hearing the Captain call the roll,
Then we'll hear him say, "Well done."

Strip for Battle.
Then strip for battle. Pause and talk no more.

The word is said. You know the word was right,
The past is dead. Your only task is war.

Relentless war; so strip yourself—and fight!
Fight with the power your splendid youth bestows—
Your thews are mighty, and your sinews strong.

Fight with a purpose. Fight, grim, that blows
Not hot and cold but marches straight along
To Victory. Fight on, with hand and brain,
And heart, and wealth, and service, till the day
When innocence and purity again,
Can walk unguarded, unafraid, the way.

Of peace; when Faith and Honor, as of yore,
Hold plighted words in bands of steel and gold
Unbreakable; when right is lord once more

Of all the world, and Freedom's wings unfold
The Earth. Fight on, and spare not, till the foe
Is on his knees: until from East to West,
The World is safe, and Pity whispers low,
"Your task is done." Then sheath your sword—and rest.

BOLSHEVISM BARRED FROM SWITZERLAND

GENEVA, Dec. 30.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The Swiss government is determined that Bolshevism shall be barred from the cantons of Swiss Confederation.

The Federal Council is firmly decided to close hermetically all the doors of Switzerland to the instigators of disorder and to their dangerous propaganda, is the way President Calonder outlined the government attitude to the Associated Press correspondent. "Switzerland," he went on, "will continue to take the most energetic measures against all bad and subversive elements coming from abroad and who are still on her territory."

The president asserted that the efforts last month to provoke a general strike in Switzerland had a revolutionary tendency. The strike was undertaken to enforce a protest by the Socialist committee against the sending of Swiss troops to Zurich to maintain order.

"This movement has completely failed," said President Calonder, "in presence of the firmness of the Federal Council which made it understood that it would not tolerate acts which would not be in accord with

Daily Health Talks

URIC ACID IN THE SYSTEM
BY LEE H. SMITH, M.D.

Uric acid is now generally recognized as the cause of more diseases than was heretofore believed. When the kidneys are out of order uric acid accumulates within the body in super abundance. The disordered kidneys do not filter the poisons out of the blood, as they ought to do, and so the poisons remain in the blood and float around until they find a place to lodge, in form of urate salts. The thing to remember is that you may have rheumatism in any part of the body—you may have pains anywhere—your back may ache and your head may be dizzy—but the trouble is not where the pain appears. The trouble is in the kidneys, and what is the first thing to do? You must get that excess uric acid out of your system, which can be done by taking Anuric Tablets, the splendid remedy which Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has put on sale in the drug stores at a low price. Anuric Tablets (made double strength), when taken into the system as medicine, have the peculiar power of dissolving the uric acid deposited there. Drop a bit of sugar or salt into hot water, and it will disappear. In precisely the same way do these Anuric Tablets dissolve uric acid. Of course, after ridding the system of uric acid, it may return again unless you eat the right foods and live the right kind of life, but Dr. Pierce will advise you fully on proper food and correct living if you write and ask him. He makes no charge for such advice. Take Anuric Tablets to-day, by all means, and get that uric acid out of your system. Don't, don't, don't, put the matter off.

our Democratic and constitution institutions.

"The defeat of this movement is due also to the fact that the federal Assembly immediately met and declared by a great majority that it would support the Federal Council in all measures against anti-constitutional intrigues and invited the council to act with the greatest energy against any one who tried to disturb public order or the quiet of the country."

"Finally the leaders understood that the whole Swiss people would not acquiesce in Bolshevism. The spirit of our troops is excellent and their attitude showed clearly to the agitators that no subversive propaganda whatever could prevail against the common sense and resolution of our population. Bolshevism represented evidently at present peril for Europe because the people are aware that Bolshevism power in Russia means the destruction not only of the middle classes but of all Russian intellectual, moral and material patrimony."

"Switzerland, more than anyone else, as we are the immediate neighbors of Germany and Austria, is directly interested that anarchy does not install itself there. The Allies cannot be indifferent to the perils in which Switzerland and all Europe would be plunged by Bolshevism in the Central Powers. For this reason, the Allies intend to contribute to send food to their former enemies. Switzerland will do her best to facilitate this humane work, persuaded that, in this way, she will be able to disperse the peril of revolution."

BELGIUM DAMAGED BEYOND ESTIMATE

By the Associated Press
BRUSSELS, Jan. 21.—Thus far it has been impossible to estimate the extent of damage caused in Belgium by the Germans or to fix, even approximately, the amount of indemnity which Belgium will demand from Germany.

In the majority of the factories which the Belgians were allowed to operate during German occupation, the plant remains, but everywhere all stocks of raw material have been entirely removed.
In the other factories, which the Belgians were not allowed to operate, there was a systematic removal of all the machinery which was dismantled and sent to Germany. The names of the German manufacturers to whom the machinery was shipped have been ascertained.

Belgian industrial circles seem to be divided whether to attempt to recover the stolen machinery from Germany, now necessarily worn, or to buy new machines abroad and to make the Germans pay for it.

The Belgian coal fields in the regions of Mons, Charleroi and Liege were operated by the Germans who used Belgian coal as currency to obtain from Holland provisions, cattle and horses. Thus, while the Belgian population suffered from cold, coal rose in price to 400 or 500 francs a ton and Belgians witnessed the spectacle of workmen weakened by privations forced to drag heavy carts loaded with coal, taking the place of the horses which the Germans had stolen.

The industrial region of Charleroi suffered severely at the hands of the Germans who destroyed the machines which they did not take away and removed all material of which they could not make use. A great amount of work will be necessary to clear up the wreckage and even if the stolen machinery or its equivalent is obtained it will be impossible to resume production before the middle of next year.

Nothing now remains of the establishment Thy-le-Chateau which annually turned out about 200,000 tons of steel. Sixty coke furnaces, four blast furnaces, four 20-ton converters and six sets of flattening machines have been destroyed or sent beyond the Rhine.

Some of the steam engines were blown upon and blast furnaces were destroyed by cutting down the supporting columns. The damage there amounts to several millions of francs.

It would be easier to enumerate what the Germans have left than to describe the ruin they have caused.

CONTRACTOR TELLS OF IMPROVEMENT

Bainbridge Gains Twenty Pounds Taking Tanlac—Troubles Ended.

"My old time energy with twenty pounds of my lost weight have been returned to me by the use of Tanlac," said C. E. Bainbridge, the well known contracting painter, decorator and wall paper man of 89 East 11th Street, Portland, in an interview, recently.

"Just about a year ago," said Mr. Bainbridge, in describing his case, "I lost my appetite and soon got to where nothing I would eat agreed with me. My food would lay in my stomach and ferment, bloat me up as tight as a drum and cause me to suffer agony. Of course I had to live on a very light diet and not being able to get the proper nourishment I lost weight and strength continually. I dropped down from one hundred and sixty-five pounds to one hundred and thirty-two—losing thirty-three pounds—in just a few months. I finally got so weak and run-down I had to give up my work and was laid up for more than five weeks. Then I began suffering with rheumatism all over, which was especially bad in my right arm. The muscles in this arm would become so drawn and painful that I could not get my hand to my head. My back also hurt me all the time. I was habitually constipated and had such terrific headaches that I could hardly see. I was so nervous the least noise would upset me and I have gone through many a night never closing my eyes for sleep. My strength and energy had just about all left me and my condition had become alarming to me. In fact, I had become discouraged, as I had taken so much medicine without getting any relief."

"Finally a friend of mine, knowing the fix I was in advised me to try Tanlac, saying his wife had been in the same condition and that six bottles of Tanlac restored her entirely. So after he told me this I lost very little time in getting me some Tanlac, and believe me, it has done the work. After taking the first bottle I was simply eating like a bear and I have been eating just anything I want since that time with no signs of bloating or any other discomfort afterwards. I have just finished my fourth bottle now and the rheumatism, is gone too. With the aid of Tanlac Tablets I have been relieved of constipation and, it's a fact, I haven't had a headache since I began taking Tanlac. I simply sleep like a log every night and can do a full day's work and still feel fresh and fine at night. My wife also suffered from indigestion and she has gotten entirely rid of it by using Tanlac. I tell you it's great and people with stomach trouble and rheumatism will do well to take it."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

NEW ERA CONFERENCE AT OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 21.—(Special)—Hundreds of delegates from all parts of Oklahoma and Arkansas are expected to attend the New Era Conference of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A., which will be held here on February 4th and 5th, and extensive preparations have been made for their entertainment. Speakers of national prominence in the Presbyterian church are included on the program for the two day conference.

The New Era Movement was launched by the General Assembly of the church for the purpose of marshalling all its resources under allied strategy on every front of service, old and new. It is planned by this method to put the church most effectively behind the adjustments of the new day in order that it may serve the world in the largest possible manner.

Churches and churchmen of every denomination all over the country are acclaiming the movement as the great timely advance of wise, practical, Christian statesmanship. Its purpose is to emphasize evangelism, education and missions; to expand its power by promoting Christian leadership for the church and nation, and to unify each board of the church in one agency.

Speakers at the Conference will include:
Dr. J. Frank Smith, Moderator, General Assembly.
Dr. W. F. Weir, Secretary Committee on Men's Work.
Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, General Secretary New Era Movement.
Dr. John A. Marquis, General Secretary Board Home Missions.
Charles N. Woonacott, Associate General Secretary New Era Movement.
Dr. W. E. Biederwolf.
Dr. George G. Mahy, Secretary Committee on Evangelism.
David McConaughy, Secretary Bureau of Stewardship.
Dr. A. W. Halsey, Secretary Board of Foreign Missions.

The fact that we read from a printed page sometimes gives a false authority to the thoughts expressed. ## DUTCH OPINION OF FORMER KAISER

Amerongen, Dec. 30.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Opinion as to what should be done with William Hohenzollern, formerly German emperor, is very much divided in Holland, even in the extreme southeastern corner of the province of Utrecht, where is situated the castle of Amerongen, Hohenzollern's temporary abode. Here the rural population contentedly lives under the rule of the gentry who have owned the land around for generations. An opportunity to observe the division of sentiment was afforded the Associated Press correspondent when he sought lodgings for the night in a small village hotel. Seated about the office were half a dozen villagers. After the stranger had been eyed awhile with the furtive suspicion of the rustic towards the townsman, talk drifted back to its former channel—Hohenzollern. "What do people hereabouts think of him?" the correspondent asked. "Think of him! He should be clapped in jail, and hanged," rapped out a sharp faced man fiercely. "That's what I think of him."

rat, complacent man who looked like a prosperous cattle dealer, oozing with war profits, "he don't deserve all that, surely." "What?" ejaculated the first man. "A fellow who had millions of people killed in them battles." "What I say is," broke in the cattleman, "he always gave thanks to the Almighty. He always praised God. You can see it in the papers. And that's a fit and proper thing to do. There are many worse than he, and it wasn't his fault alone that all them people were killed. What do you say, landlord?" "Aye, that may be true," said the landlord diplomatically. "He had his faults, I daresay. But I do say 'tis a sad come-down for a gentleman in his position." And he shook his gray head. "Pshaw!" said the sharp-faced man. You bet he lacks for nothing. He lives on the fat of the land. He gets all he wants, and more. Currant bread he gets every day, and jam and tea. Folks like that never lack for nothing, eh?" The village carpenter thus addressed cast a disapproving look over the assembly. "I don't hold with royalty and such," he growled slowly through his teeth, which gripped his pipe like a vise. "There's old Paul Kruger. I never could abide him. When he came to Utrecht I was working at the hotel where he was staying. And twice every day, every day, he had hot pudding! Now I call that sinful; it's scandalous. It oughtn't be allowed."

THREE MORE DIVISIONS WILL BE DISCHARGED

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The twenty-seventh, thirtieth and thirty-seventh divisions, including all attached organizations have been instructed to prepare for embarkation home, the war department announced today.

The Albatross. The albatross spends its life, with the exception of a few weeks given each year to nesting, entirely at sea, and is on the wing practically all the time. Furthermore, it does not progress by flapping its wings as most birds do, but seems to soar at will, rarely, if ever, giving a stroke of the wing, seeming to need no impetus. At nesting time, which is early in the year, the albatross repairs to an isolated island, such as one of the Crozet Islands, in the southern Indian ocean, or Tristan Da Cunha, in the South Atlantic ocean.

ANIMALS MAKE

Animals can be grateful—very deeply, dumbly grateful.

"But the historians—the men who wrote about those times—speak of the goodness of Asoka and of how the people loved him.

"So that animals had a very great friend years and years ago. But it is our duty and it should be our pleasure to see that animals have friends throughout the years.

"Not only must we think of the good works of Asoka but we must see as he did that animals are our friends and the better we treat them the more will they appreciate it and try to do what they can for us.

"We shouldn't hold horses' heads 'way back with cruel and horrid check-reins. We should stop to think that we wouldn't like to walk and run along the roads with our heads held 'way back. And people do that to their horses because they think it's stylish."

"Little dogs should never have their tails cut off because people think it's fashionable. Let's help to make it the style to be kind and not cruel. Would we like it, if it was considered stylish to have a part of our hands or arms cut off?"

"And when people say it doesn't hurt the animals, ask them if it doesn't hurt to have a tiny cut—and if the pain afterward isn't pretty bad; so what about a bigger cut?"

"Think of the dogs who have saved lives and risked their own in fires, in the water and in all kinds of dangers. Think of the pigeons who carry messages, of the horses who work so hard, and of all the many animals who do their parts in the world either by work or by bringing pleasure to their owners.

"Yes, Asoka was the first friend to animals but let's do all we can to see that every year the dumb beasts have more and more friends."

"We certainly will," said Nick and Nancy together, "and we will form a society among our friends and do all we can."

OIL CITY ROUTE THROUGH A

NEW HIGHWAY FROM TULSA WICHITA FALLS TO CROSS CANADIAN AT FRANCIS.

The "Oil Cities Route" is name for a new highway from Tulsa, Okla., to Wichita Falls, Tex., Ada is to be on the route. Such good news received this morning O. N. Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, from Paul Smith, secretary of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce. The highway will be used probably more than other in this section of the country inasmuch as oil men are continually going to and from the oil fields Western Texas.

The letter follows: Ardmore, Jan. 20, 1919. Mr. O. N. Walker, Secretary Chamber Commerce, Ada, Okla.

Dear Mr. Walker: We are launching a highway proposition here which will be of as much importance to Ada as to Ardmore and we hope to have your cooperation in locating, marking, advertising and otherwise promoting the route.

The proposed new highway is named the "Oil Cities Route" will extend from Tulsa to Wichita Falls, Tex. Our idea at this time that the road should run through following cities: Sapulpa, Okmulgee, Henryetta, Holdenville, across now Canadian river on a bridge building north of Francis, A. Sulphur, Davis, Ardmore, Wills, Ringling, Waurika, across Red River at Byers, Wichita Falls.

With the intense interest now prevalent with regard to road construction it seems to us here that should have little difficulty in stimulating particular interest in all these towns in laying out such a highway as this. Smaller towns along route would certainly be interested and there might be considerable ally as to just what local road should be followed in laying out route and these contending committees would doubtless

HIGHER PHONE RATES ENJOINED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 21.—The state corporation commission issued an order yesterday restraining the Southwest Bell Telephone company from putting into effect new long distance telephone rates approved by Postmaster General A. S. Burleson.

This action was taken on a complaint filed with the commission late yesterday afternoon by Attorney General S. P. Freeling. The new rates went into effect last night at midnight except in states where temporary restraining orders were issued, according to an announcement of W. H. Lamar, solicitor of the postoffice department in a dispatch from Washington.

Any attempt on the part of the Southwestern Bell company to collect the increased rates will subject it to daily fines for contempt of the corporation commission, Paul A. Walker, attorney for the commission, said last night.

The decision of the corporation commission to fight further federal control of intrastate telephone business followed an investigation by W. D. Humphrey, chairman of the commission, who was armed with a report of engineers of the telephone department of the commission, showing that the new schedule approved by the postmaster general would result in an increase of 36 per cent in toll rates.
